

We know, sabem, that adjectives are words that help the noun with his meaning. Pronouns, on the other hand, are words that we use instead of a noun. Aquí en tenim four words that in English can be used as much as adjectives as un pronom.

	Singular	Plural
Near the speaker	This	These
Far from the speaker	That	Those

Examples of demonstrative adjectives

Here are some examples:

- This scissors are blunt.
- These records are not updated.
- That girl has got temperature.
- Those apples are too expensive.

Examples of demonstrative pronouns

Here are some examples:

- This is a difficult topic.
- These are not updated!
- That looks quite ill. She must have temperature.
- Those are too expensive. Try some other tests.